How the New Federal Bird Laws Affect New England.

Every Sportsman of New England will be interested to know how the new Federal Regulations for the Protection of Migratory Birds affect his territory. He will want to know under what circumstances the Federal laws take precedence and when the State laws are effective. A little study of these different regulations will be necessary to determine whether he is hunting legally or illegally.

Under an act of Congress, passed March 4, 1913, known as the McLean-Weeks Bill, the Federal Government was given the power to make regulations to fix the closed seasons for migratory birds. On October 1, at 12:40 p. m., these regulations were signed by the President, as the statute required, and how have the force of law. Under these regulations New England comes in the Northern Zone or Zone No. 1.

The Federal Regulations apply to migratory birds, but not to all migratory birds; only to migratory game and insectivorous birds. If a game bird is migratory it is included under the regulations. The ruffed grouse, bob-white and prairie hen are not considered migratory enough to be included under these regulations. On the other hand the woodcock and snipe are included.

All perching birds which feed entirely or chiefly on insects are protected at all times. This included bobolinks, oat-birds, chickadees, cuckoos, flickers, flycatchers, grosbeaks, humming birds, kinglets, meadowlarks, night hawks, nuthatches, orioles, robins, shrikes, swallows, swifts, tanagers, thrushes, vireos, warblers, waxwings, whip-poor-wills, woodpeckers and wrens. Kingfishers, for example which are insectivorous in a small degree, are not included, but they may be protected under State laws.

Consultation with State and Federal legal authorities show that they agree that the Federal laws take precedence over State laws except where the State law makes a shorter open season than the Federal law, in which case there is nothing to prevent the State authorities from enforcing the State law.

For example: the Federal Regulations in Massachusetts fix the open season on woodcock from October 10 to December 1, while under the State law the season is established to coincide with that of the grouse and extends from October 12 to November 12. In such a case the State law will hold, but when the open season under the State law begins earlier and ends later than that under the Federal Regulations, the Federal Regulations will hold.

The open season for migratory birds in Zone No. 1 under the Federal Regulations are as follows: Waterfowl, September 1 to December 16; exceptions in New England, Massachusetts from September 15 to January 1. Rail, Coots and Gallinules, September 1 to December 1; exceptions in New England, New Hampshire and Rhode Island from August 15 to December 1; Connecticut, September 16 to December 1. Woodcock, October 1 to December 1; exceptions in New England, Connecticut and Massachusetts from October 10 to December 1 and in Rhode Island from November 1 to December 1.

Shore Birds—Black-breasted and golden plover, jacksnipe and yellowlegs, September 1 to December 16; exceptions in New England, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Rhode Island from August 15 to December 1. The shore birds named above are the only species that may be legally killed for five years under the new Federal Regulations. All small plover, sandpipers, or "peeps" and "grassbirds" are protected at all times. All migratory game birds are protected from sunset to sunrise throughout the United States, and in Vermont, rails are protected until the year 1918. There is a closed season on wood ducks in New England until September 1918. The regulation of the collecting of birds for scientific purposes is left to the several states.

October Pomona.

The October session of Oxford County Pomona met with Frederick Robie grange at Otisfield Gore. The forenoon session was devoted to business and the offering of the fifth degree on a class of thirteen, who represented several different granges. The officers were all present with one exception. Worthy Master Henry E. Jillean presided. At noon a beautiful collation was served which was under the direction of the lady officers.

The afternoon session was open to the public. There was a large attendance. Eleven granges were represented. The following program was given—Music, choir; reading, Mrs. Elbridge Pike (soprano); reading, Ida Grover (soprano); music, choir; discussion on best methods of raising corn, opened by Worthy Lecturer L. E. McIntire, followed by Brother George Green and Worthy Master Henry E. Jillean; reading, Rev. Mr. Sias (soprano); reading, Chas. Thurlow; music, choir. This was a fine program, well carried out. The next session of Pomona will be held with L. K. side Grange, Harrison.

This Beautiful Hair

Is like what you want your hair to be—

Lustrous, bright and glossy; soft, silky and wavy.

To have beautiful hair like this, use

HARMONY HAIR BEAUTIFIER

It's just what its name implies—just to make the hair glossy, and lustrous, and more beautiful—just to make it easier to dress, and more natural to fall easily and gracefully into the wavy lines and folds of the coiffure, just to give that delightful fresh and cool effect, and leave a lingering, delicate, elusive perfume.

Will not change or darken the color of the hair. Contains no oil; therefore, cannot leave the hair sticky or stringy.

Very pleasant to use, very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it.

To thoroughly clean your hair and scalp, use

Harmony Shampoo

A liquid shampoo to keep the hair clean, soft, smooth and beautiful. It gives an instantaneous rich, foaming lather, penetrating to every part of the hair and scalp. It is washed off just as quickly, the entire operation taking only a few moments.

It leaves no lumps or stickiness.

—Just a refreshing sense of cool, sweet cleanliness.

—Just a dainty, pleasant and clean fragrance.

Both in odd-shaped ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops.

Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00; Harmony Shampoo, 50c.

Both guaranteed to please you, or your money back.

Sold only by the more than 7000 Rexall Stores—The World's Greatest Drug Stores—and made in our own big Boston Laboratories, where all the delightful HARMONY, VIOLET DULCE and BOUQUET JEANNE Perfumes and Toilet Preparations are made.

SOUTH WATERBURY.

Apple picking has commenced in some orchards.

Brown-tail moth nests are about as plentiful as apples.

Alma Honey of Holyoke, Mass., is a visiting guest of Mrs. Augusta Monroe. Mrs. Julia Whitney of Harrison reports setting six hens on 13 eggs to each hen, 78 eggs in all. She has or had recently 89 chicks as the result. Incredible isn't it? But there are or were the chickens.

W. K. Hamlin is filling his silo with yellow corn of a very tall growing variety long ears, well filled and as green as ever from his old mountain farm; perhaps the most elevated cornfield in town.

A contractor for cement work with a crew of workmen have been laying a big job of basement floors in the new old Houghton hotel and stable buildings, which are quite the sensation of the year in the line of building construction.

Howard Dearborn, while driving one of W. K. Hamlin's heavy team wagons was thrown to the ground and receiving serious injury by the wheel striking his head. He was able to be out the next day and it is believed he will soon recover.

Miss Payson, whose fine summer residence is a conspicuous object on the East from Keoka Lake, received $45 for product of about seven-eighths of an acre of sweet corn. All the dressing given the land was a moderate fertilizing with phosphate.

Hon. Charles Sumner Cook of Portland, accompanied by his daughter, sister and two nieces made an excursion to Waterford last Sunday in the big Cadillac auto. His trip included a brief visit to his friend, Capt. Granville Fernald at Oak Lodge. He returned to Portland the same day via Harrison village and Bolster's Mills.

HEBRON.

Picking apples is the chief business of the farmers at present.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Sturtevant spent the week in Farmington and vicinity.

Stanley Glover of Portland has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Glover.

Mrs. Delphina Cushman has gone to Lynn, Mass., to visit her son H. Mortimer Cushman. Her daughter, Mrs. Munroe, accompanied her as far as Portland.

The Circle supper was a success with the following committee in charge: Mrs. Nellie Melcher, Mrs. Iez Hutchinson, Mrs. Gertrude Glover, Mrs. Rose Phillips and Mrs. Sargent.

The Maine Woman's Suffrage Ass'n will hold its 33d annual convention at Pythian Hall, Portland, Oct. 29.

WHAT ARE YOU DOING

To Keep Well?

To be still strong and active at 40 or 50, to be well, free from pain and discomfort at 75 or 80. Are you careful about your eating, eat slowly and the right kind of food? Exercise enough out-of-doors by day? Plenty of fresh air in your sleeping apartments at night? Watching the bowels and liver to keep them active, taking a teaspoonful of "L. F." Atwood's Medicine to quicken them when needed and to break up a cold when first symptoms appear?

Mrs. O. B. Fuller, Union, Me., writes: "The 'L. F.' Medicine has been our standard remedy for years. Neither my husband, children or myself have been sick enough for a doctor in twenty years. I tell my friends it is because I always have 'L. F.' Medicine on hand, and 'An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.'"

HARRISON.

Chester Lincoln Walker.

Charles Lincoln Walker passed to the higher life, Tuesday morning, Oct. 7, at 8.40 o'clock, at the age of 75 years. He was born in this town and has spent the whole of his life here on the farm which was owned by his father, Charles Walker.

Mr. Walker was a member of the Free Baptist church here for fifty years, clerk of the church for more than thirty years and a member of the choir a great many years.

He was thrice married, his first wife being Lydia Sawyer, his second wife was Sarah Harmon, both deceased. He is survived by his third wife, Mary Haley Walker. He also leaves three sons to mourn his death—Dr. Sidney L. Walker of Keene, N. H., Wilfred Walker of Woodfords and Wilson Walker of South Paris.

Mr. Walker was respected by all who knew him and will be greatly missed. Rev. J. B. Coy conducted the funeral services at his late home on Thursday afternoon. Members of the Harrison I. O. O. F. Lodge of which the deceased was a charter member, attended in a body. Interment was in the family lot in the village cemetery, and the beautiful flowers were a true testimonial of the esteem in which he was held.

SAMUEL ABBOTT.

Samuel Abbott, the oldest man in town, passed away Tuesday evening, Oct. 7, after a lingering illness, having been about a month, at the age of ninety years and two months.

Mr. Abbott was a man highly respected and esteemed by all who knew him. Religiously he was a faithful Baptist, becoming a Christian at the age of eight years, and being baptized and joining the church at 15 years of age.

A few years ago Mr. Abbott was presented by the Boston Post with the gold headed cane, a prize given to the oldest man in every town.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Betsey Kilgore, of Waterford, and one brother, Charles Abbott, of Bridgton Highlands; also several nephews and nieces.

He was faithfully cared for in his later years by his nephew and niece, Oliver and Kate Abbott, of this village.

The funeral services, Friday forenoon, were attended by the Rev. J. B. Coy. Two solos, "Face to Face" and "Waiting for Me," were beautifully rendered by Mrs. Edith B. Barrett, with Mrs. George Flint at the organ. Interment was beside his first wife in the Woodsum cemetery. The floral tributes beautiful and in profusion.

OXFORD

Joseph R. Parrott, president of the Florida East Coast Railroad, died at his summer camp here Monday night, of angina pectoris. The end came suddenly. During the day Parrott was apparently in normal health.

Mr. Parrott was born in Oxford, Oct. 30, 1858, so that he was only 55 years old, really in the prime of life. His family consists of his widow, who was Helen Merced of New Haven, and one daughter, Mrs. Helen McDonald of New York, while other relatives who survive are his aged father, George J. Parrott, of Oxford, three brothers, James E. Parrott of Oxford, Albert E. Parrott of Providence and Elmer M. Parrott of Portland, and one sister, Mrs. Thomas Keenan, of Jamaica Plain.

Parrott attended the public schools of Oxford and for college at Hebron and Phillips-Andover, and then entered Yale. There he jumped into prominence as an athlete, and from 1882 to 1885 was one of the best oarsmen, as well as one of the best boxers in the university. After he finished his classical course he took his degree at the Yale Law school, and then for a short time he was in the office of Charles F. Libby of Portland.

An opening appeared in Florida, and he went there and became a member of a firm that was counsel for the Jacksonville, Tampa & Key West railroad. Later this road was merged with Flagler's Florida Southern and then, the merger failing, Parrott was appointed receiver for the combined roads. By 1892, however, Flagler had succeeded in clearing his road and he engaged Parrott as his chief counsel, and made him vice president of the railroad and of the Florida East Coast Canal.

It was because of his position and his proved worth that Flagler went to Parrott when he was considering the construction of the line from the mainland out to Key West. And Parrott understood the Florida situation, backed by Flagler's resources and under his direction. He was second only in prominence to Henry M. Flagler in the development of the wonderful railway that reaches 70 miles out over the Florida Keys.

A plain-born boy from the Oxford Hills was the one of all men who devoted his master mind to this vast enterprise. Despite his toil and perplexities in the faraway city of Jacksonville, Mr. Parrott never lost an atom of affection for his native town in his native State and never so well did he enjoy himself as when back among the old familiar scenes of his boyhood. He found time every year for a vacation visit, and his palatial summer home on Marquise Island in Lake Thompson, is a spot where he romped as a boy, and surrounded by the waters where he and the other boys of those days, fished, swam and sailed their boats. This charming spot has been beautified by his owner who sought in his sequestered there such quiet and contentment as can be found in the State of Maine more satisfactory than any where else in the world. For more than a quarter of a century his name has continuously been on the subscription list of the Norway (Oxford Co.) Advertiser, his home paper.

He came to Oxford in July when impaired health gave its first warning that overwork threatened serious consequences. At times he has seemed in a fair way to recover but such good fortune was not to be his, and it was destined that his life's work should end Monday night, in his old town in the midst of old friends, to which and to whom he was ever loyal and considerate.

"Travel"

The wanderlust you feel is a natural desire to see new places, think new thoughts, meet new people.

It's not an abnormal craving for change, for excitement, it's a normal desire to broaden one's self.

Travel has well been called the great educator.

DON'T PUT OFF THAT TRIP!

It's easy and inexpensive.

Ask Any Sickie Smoker Why

he sticks to Sickie plug and slices off each pipeful as he needs it, when he could get tobacco already cut up, in packages. He'll tell you, "because the Sickie was the only way to get fresh tobacco, that smokes cool and sweet, and doesn't bite the tongue." He knows.

Tobacco that is cut up at the factory gets dried up on its way to you. Result—it burns fast and hot, and "bites." When you cut your own tobacco off the Sickie plug, you are well repaid for a minute's work by fresh tobacco—because all the flavor and moisture are pressed into the plug and held in by the natural leaf wrapper.

Get a plug of Sickie at your dealer's today. Notice how much more tobacco you get, when you don't have to pay for a package.

World's Fair.

The North Waterford World's Fair took place Friday and Saturday in spite of the drizzling rain and was largely attended. There were a number of people from far and near and the general union of friends was as much enjoyed as if the weather had been at its best.

The exhibit at the school-house was as large as usual and was in charge of Clarence Mason.

Among the exhibitors was W. L. Butters, who had a variety of 24 kinds of apples which occupied one table on which was a braided rug exhibited by Mrs. Butters.

One table was devoted wholly to exhibits by Jennie McAllister and included endive, oyster plant, potatoes, squash, grapes, large beets, lettuce; canned goods including chopped pickles, mixed pickles, chicken, spiced jelly, raspberries, corn, mustard, peas, cauliflower, parsnips, erdive, beans, cauliflower, cranberries, pears, plums, apple jelly, grape jelly, embroidery, a waist set of green and pink, a lace handkerchief, a handsome embroidered forget-me-not pillow with cord braid, a hand painted pillow of roses on black satin, a fancy velvet pillow, embroidered table cloth, embroidered butterfly doily, three crocheted doilies, crocheted undervest, a pin cushion and two stenciled fancy commode covers.

Lydia L. Lord had a large exhibit that occupied a table mostly of canned goods including crab apples, wax beans blue kins, beans, peas, cranberries, raspberries, tomato pickles, cherries, raspberry jelly, wine sauce, nut-ra, best greens, corn, dandelions, blackberry jam, pine-apple jam, spiced jam, peach jam, raspberry jam, black currant jam, spiced jam, cabbage and carrot greens, mustard pickle, cranberry catsup, tomatoes and corn on the cob, whole carrots, turnip greens, oranges, mixed pickles, rhubarb, squash, figs, strawberries and a fine display of maple honey and bees' honey, vegetables including cabbage, squash, pumpkins, onions, turnips, beets, carrots and butter.

Donald L. Kimball had a display of apples, Golden Baldwin and Baldwin.

Over Kimball, a display of Macintosh Red apples.

E. B. Hersey, a display of apples including Starks, Westby, Macintosh, Snow, Baldwin, Tolman Sweet; also display of vegetables, Stanley potatoes, beets, carrots, cabbage, cauliflower and Hubbard squash.

Philip Lord displayed Canada Baldwin.

Ralph B. Knight had a showing of McIntosh Red apples.

Mrs. Fred McAllister exhibited a hemstitched handkerchief and crocheted undervest.

Mrs. W. V. Tyler had a pillow slip with crocheted trimming, crocheted lace and embroidered table cover.

Mrs. M. E. Carsley, aged 82, exhibited a fancy table spread, sewing book of red velvet and satin, a picture frame made of birch bark and toast stouk.

A CLERGYMAN'S STORY

Came Near Losing His Life—How He Escaped

REV. G. W. ROBERTS, for me a letter. R. B. Box 27, Hartsell, Ala.

The following letter was received by The Peruna Co., from Rev. G. W. Roberts, R. R. 2, Box 27, Hartsell, Alabama, under date of April 2, 1904, which is exactly nine years ago.

He says: "I take pleasure in informing you of what your Peruna has done for me after three years of suffering."

I had tried the treatments of several doctors, also home remedies, but they failed and all hope had gone. My friends, like myself, thought I was in the last stages of consumption.

"My daughter brought me a bottle of Peruna and I had lost my voice, and I thought it no use. That was in May, 1902. I began to take it, according to directions. I wrote to you, and you gave me your kind advice."

"I soon felt better, my cough began to give way, and the expectation lessened. I have taken fourteen bottles. I feel well, eat heartily, sleep soundly, weigh as much as I ever did, do considerable work on my farm, and attend to my other business. My friends seem astonished at my recovery."

"I wish to thank you for your kind advice and the books you have sent me. I shall ever praise your medicine and hope that you may enjoy a long life."

It will be observed that Rev. Roberts waited two years after he began to use Peruna, before he wrote the above letter to The Peruna Co. So that his apparent recovery could not possibly have been temporary relief.

In a later letter to The Peruna Co., dated September 22, 1906, Rev. Roberts says: "I am a great friend of Peruna. By the use of Dr. Hartman's advice I am here to-day, able to be with my family and attend to my business."

It is not necessary for us to add any words to this story. The eloquence and pathos of these letters are more convincing than arguments or affidavits. Who can doubt the clergyman's story? Who can doubt that Peruna saved his life?

Every home should be provided with the last edition of the "Life of Life," sent free by the Peruna Co., Columbus, Ohio.

We quote from another letter, dated December 10, 1906: "I praise Peruna to all the sick. The people know my case, and they praise it also."

In a letter dated November 22, 1909, we quote Rev. Roberts: "Peruna gave me back my life ten years ago. All my acquaintances know that. I am certainly thankful to you for your kindness."

In a later letter, dated January 13, 1910, he says: "I shall ever in the future, as in the past, be ready to speak in praise of Peruna to all sufferers. I believe my miraculous cure has been the means of many others being cured in this county."

From a letter of September 5, 1911, we quote a few words: "I am still among the living. As to Peruna, I do not feel that I have words to express the faith I have in its merits. I feel that Peruna has been the means, through the kind providence of God, of prolonging my life for more than ten years."

We quote a still later letter, October 31, 1912. He says: "I took a severe cold three weeks ago. I at once sent for Peruna. Have been taking it two weeks. I am now better. I consider that Peruna has carried me over a dozen years of life. I always stand ready to answer any question in reference to Peruna."

We quote from his last letter, dated January 2, 1913: "Dear Friends: I wish this bright New Year to express my thanks to you for your kindness. Trusting that you may have a successful and happy year, and that your medicine may prove a blessing to many as it has to me, I am yours as ever, G. W. Roberts, Hartsell, Alabama, R. F. D. 2, Box 27."

It is not necessary for us to add any words to this story. The eloquence and pathos of these letters are more convincing than arguments or affidavits. Who can doubt the clergyman's story? Who can doubt that Peruna saved his life?
